

FEARFUL GALE ON ATLANTIC COAST

Great Damage Done to Ports Along Nova Scotian Seaboard. Big

Jan. 9.—The worst gale of company by the highest tide of Sashby gale, of October 4th, sailed on the day of Pundy in a lesser degree, though in province last night. The signal Brier Island says that one and two o'clock, that the wind blew from sixty miles per hour from the causing a lot of damage to Westport, and the destruction of buildings and more or less done along the water.

When the tide was so high as at Jernale's cove were a great difficulty. Fish stagers down and boats drifted into the water, and the passage is now full of drift lobster traps.

Reports of the damage were the tearing up of the streets and houses and sea. Fishermen losses of lobster buoys, etc., and many boats appeared up out of the way damaged, including a fleet of yachts. The wharf and post were destroyed; the tugboats wharf was destroyed. Westport is full of driftwood.

To the fishermen and others severely felt at this season. A fishing schooner Adriatic Prime when the owner, a fisherman, attempted to save it from destruction. He being filled with a struck plank from the stern to stern, saved by his heroic assistance crew of the vessel. The unwinning mountains high.

In south shore the gale raged from the southeast. Much one who the shore has to the property of eight.

A NEW CHANCE FOR THE CANADIAN PRODUCER.

France has two tariff schedules, the maximum, chargeable on imports from foreign countries generally and the minimum, collected on products from countries which extend similar tariff favors to France. Canada has three schedules, the maximum or general tariff, the intermediate or minimum tariff to foreign countries and the preferential to Britain and the other Dominions of the Empire.

The commercial treaty recently negotiated permits certain classes of Canadian products to enter France under the minimum tariff of that country, and allows certain classes of French products to enter Canada under our intermediate tariff, in other words, Canada and France each become a "favored nation" in the tariff regulations of the other.

Following are some of the reductions thus secured in the French tariff against Canadian products:

Bacon	25 to 30
Fresh and cured meats	30 to 50
Eggs	40
Cured codfish	50
Pickled fish	50
Timber and lumber	25 to 33
Iron and steel	30 to 39
Lead	15
Paper	23
Hides	50
Boots and shoes	30 to 39
Agricultural implements	40

Last year France imported $300,000,000 of Canadian goods.

The chief items being:

Hence	$ 2,900,000
Fresh and cured meats	6,000,000
Eggs	7,000,000
Cured codfish	6,000,000
Pickled fish	2,000,000
Timber and lumber	6,000,000
Hides	5,000,000
Boots and shoes	2,000,000
Agricultural implements	7,000,000

Of this enormous amount Canada supplied France with only $121,000 worth; some one else got the $278,000,000. This was a far from satisfactory condition of things. We had the goods and wanted markets for them. France wanted the goods, but preferred to buy them from countries which exchanged tariff concessions with her; as a result we got only $121,000 every $300 France spent abroad for the very class of goods we had to sell.

The commercial treaty is an attempt to capture for Canada a large share of that $300,000,000, and it bids fair to accomplish its purpose. The treaty makes it an advantage to Canada to sell to France, and an advantage to France to buy from Canada. Under the reduced tariff our goods can compete in France with the products of other countries, and the more goods France buys from us the more she may expect to sell us.

This market we are attempting to secure by lessening the restrictions against French goods entering Canada. We consent to permit our people to buy from France on condition that our people are permitted to sell in France. The result should be a material cheapening of Canada of the manufactured products which France has to sell, as well as an increased demand in France for the goods Canada has to sell. The burden on the Canadian consumer should be lightened, while the profits of the Canadian producer are enhanced.

The treaty is the first exercise of a power conferred on the Government by Parliament at last session—the power to extend the international tariff to any country prepared to grant to us corresponding tariff favors in return. The purpose of seeking this power was that the Government might continue the policy of securing markets for Canadian products abroad and of lowering the tariff barriers against products which Canada finds it profitable to import. It is to be hoped the treaty with France is the first of many to be concluded with nations who are large importers of such products as we have to sell, and who produce largely goods which it is to our advantage to import.

A SUGGESTED REMEDY.

Calgary is providing work for unemployed citizens filling in a dump behind the breakwater along the Bow River. This suggests the idea that whether other western cities could not undertake certain classes of public work at this season without extra cost to the taxpayers and without the loss of those who may not be able to secure employment. To do so would of course involve borrowing money at rates higher than is either usual or desirable, but wages paid for work could be reduced temporarily by an amount sufficient to offset this. High wages are of course preferable to low wages, but low wages are preferable to no wages at all, and the laborer would be benefited by employment at even lower wages than usual rather than by being left without any income.

The amount of public work that can be carried on with advantage in the winter months is of course limited, and any cities might not be able to undertake any work with advantage at this season. On the other hand, many cities have projects actually in hand which could be carried on in winter, and which would now be actively under way, but for the unfavorable conditions of the money market.

Could the cost of the work be lowered sufficiently to counterbalance the increased cost of the money, those projects could be resumed, and that much additional employment offered to laborers and artisans.

The lower wages would be understood of course as merely a temporary expedient made necessary by the high interest rate and the unwillingness to be followed when money can again be borrowed at lower rates. It would be a compromise by which the cities would be enabled to proceed for the time being to those without work and wages to those who are not now receiving wages; but should not be construed as establishing a new basis to which the cities should adhere when work became plentiful and wages rose accordingly.

The number of the unemployed in the western cities is so no means as large as at one time feared, or as sometimes represented. That it is in excess of the number ordinarily without work at this season of the year is true, but not sufficiently in excess to create any remarkably difficult problem. For this reason there is hope that a comparatively small amount of work provided by the cities would completely relieve conditions and would create an income to many men needing it and willing to work for it. If this work could be provided now without increasing the burden it will eventually lay upon the taxpayer, the whole situation would be met in a generally satisfactory manner. The matter is worthy the serious consideration of the councils of cities in which any considerable numbers of men are unable to find present employment.

ON THE SIDE.

Toronto electors considered Dr. Beattie Nesbitt too much of a "mixer" to be turned loose on a six million dollar spending programme.

The result in Nicolet is a gentle suggestion that the electors of that riding would just as soon elect their representative by acclamation.

There are estimated to be 60,000 marriageable gentlemen and 40,000 marriageable ladies in Canada. Capital has about 250,000,000 chances of making himself useful during the 366 days of the current year.

Provision Loan of $75,000,000. Legian, Jan. 8.—The action of the Canadian ministry in announcing that it will issue subscriptions on January 14th on a new loan of $75,000,000, an exciting, much unfavorable comment in financial circles. Many regard the time as ill-timed before the money market is sufficiently relaxed. The fact that the amount of the loan has not been specified also has aroused objection since this is regarded as unfair to holders of older issues. The ministry's direct appeal to investors without the assurance of the banks themselves are disappointed. Nevertheless they are disposed to assist in the subscription and have decided to handle the issue of their own account.

LEMIEUX ADMIRES THE LITTLE JAPS

Canada's Ambassador Speaks in High Praise of the Japs—Nothing in Present War Scare—His Mission
Not a Failure

Winnipeg, Jan. 9.—The Hon. R. Lemieux, postmaster general, who has been in Japan conducting negotiations in regard to the question of Japanese immigration to Canada, passed through the city yesterday on his way to Ottawa. When seen by the press, Mr. Lemieux was questioned in regard to the mission which had taken him to the Orient.

"The Associated Press of America has stated," said Mr. Lemieux, "that my mission to the Orient was a failure. The reason they give for failure was that I had not called upon the American minister in Tokyo. I am sorry I had thought to do with the American minister. My business was a serious one with the Japanese government and I was not responsible in any degree to the representative of any other power. I wish to be judged by my own parliament, by the people and press of my own country, and not by the Associated Press of America."

Nothing War Scare.

"How about the talk of war between the United States and Japan?" he was asked. "In Japan it is not known seriously, especially since the last message of the president. Even now they are in a very poor condition; the late war has drained their resources and they are all for peace. You hear no talk of war and no even even think of it. The great question at the present time is that of immigration. It is a popular sentiment one and that is why the Canadian government will have to be very careful. Fortunately Count Hayashi is the brains of the Japanese government today. He is the man who made the treaty with Great Britain before the late war and that is a sample of his ability. He is an eminently sane man and is to be trusted to settle this question of immigration in a satisfactory way."

Well-Informed Nation.

"This question, however, is interesting the people of Japan very greatly today. There are about fifty daily papers in Tokyo and the press is kept thoroughly informed in regard to it. The Japanese are very sensitive in every way. I do not judge myself by their methods which is purely the most efficient in the world today, nor by their navy which is second only to that of Great Britain, but I judge by their universities, their schools and by their political institutions and government. As regards the actual result of my mission, I cannot speak at the present time."

THE FRAUD CHARGES.

Case Against Grain and Stock Company For Improperly Using Mail.

Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 9.—The prosecution in the Wisconsin Grain & Stock Company case, the alleged members of which are charged with using mails to defraud, called on seven witnesses yesterday afternoon in an attempt to show that the commission holder did not play the game for his customers. May Correll of Minneapolis, who was employed as a telegraph operator by Edward Wood & Company, and remained with the Wisconsin Grain & Stock Company for about a year, was questioned in regard to the practice of "padding" the market. Under running fire of objections that the government was asking leading questions and making a cross-examination of its own witnesses, Mr. Correll succeeded in eliciting testimony that some one told the witness to hold back quotations on two or three occasions, and that Phelps, president of the company, had once conferred with him for not obeying orders in this respect. The witness said he could give no instance and did not recall any one who gave him orders to "hold the market."

T. J. Milligan, who testified for the defense on Wednesday, was yesterday cross-examined at length. It appeared that Milligan, who was getting $25 per week from the Wisconsin Grain & Stock Company, was placed with Minor & Co. of the Chicago Board of Trade. The witness admitted that he did not go through the formality of giving notes that he was going to leave. Phelps made some testimony in regard to a meeting with Detective King and Post Office Inspector Richmond at the Ryan Hotel one Thursday evening. King questioned him a position where the witness said he would receive a larger salary than he received from the Wisconsin Grain & Stock Co. King provided him with transportation, and on the following night he walked out of the office of the Wisconsin Grain & Stock Co. and never went back. He first saw King in the office of the Wisconsin Grain & Stock Co. in Philadelphia. The company with Post Office Inspector Richmond. On the direct examination Milligan said that his relationship with King had not influenced his testimony in the least.

To Sift Mysterious Disappearance.

Dublin, January 8.—The Irish government has at last appointed a commission to thoroughly sift the mystery of the disappearance last July of a portion of the state regalia, valued at a quarter of a million dollars, from the castle. The case was forced on the jewels stolen which are named in the ceremony of the investiture of the order of St. Patrick. The authorities were impelled to this step by the persistent reports that the jewels were known to have been deposited as security for a loan. It is understood that the King intervened in the matter, insisting on its being cleared up.

Railway in Receiver's Hands.

St. Paul, Jan. 9.—The Chicago Great Western Railway Company today went into the hands of receivers. The crisis was created by money conditions, which prevented the extension of its paper, but the cause was the amount of eight million dollars, which became due this year. President Sweeney and C. A. Severance, counsel for the company, went to London a few weeks ago in an endeavor to arrange some arrangement with the note holders by which the appointment of a receiver might be avoided. It was hoped they would send the notes to bond issues to secure foreign capital to supply the company's urgent needs.

Want Grant for Immigration.

Ottawa, Jan. 9.—A deputation composed of H. Gervin, M.P., Goldford Landis, M.P., and J. LeClerc, M.P., L. A. Boyer, ex-M.P., ex-Adm. Michaud and Dr. Duhamel, waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and asked for a grant to aid the Canadian Immigration Society of Montreal in bringing farm laborers and domestic help from France and Belgium. The society is recognized by the provincial government. The premier promised to take the request into consideration.

Montreal, Jan. 9.—The local Conservative Association held a meeting last night. George F. Hyndman and seconded by J. C. F. Hyndman.

He passed through Winnipeg in the summer of 1906, and has not been heard of since.

The storm along the English channel, Algeria, the west coast of Europe and the North Africa, is still raging, and many fishing boats have been lost.

$6,000 Burn Fire at Reston.

Reston, Man., Jan. 9.—A barn on J. R. Ireland's farm about a mile south of here was destroyed by fire last night together with nine horses, cattle and many. The loss $6,000, was fully insured.

Thaw Jury Completed.

Stocks Active in New York.

New York, Jan. 9.—The exhibition of anxiety and conservatism by the Northern Pacific directors in refusing to pay an extra dividend, when all speculative interests in Wall street were demanding it, and a widespread effect in restoring confidence among the investors. The first effect was seen at the opening, when all issues advanced sharply. Northern Pacific was exceedingly strong and under the leadership of Reading, which gained four points, the whole market became buoyant and active. Even copper stocks advanced. The London market was dull.

Bank of England Statement Good.

London, Jan. 9.—The Bank of England statement is exceptionally good, showing a surplus for the greatest last week. The proportion of reserves to the liabilities is 410 to 100. The last week it was only 30.62. The bank of France has reduced its rate from 4 to 3 1/2 per cent.
